

Wanted: people to observe bike helmet wearing in your community.

For the second year, Observation Headway is conducting bike helmet wearing observations across PEI. This year, we will be conducting observations all summer, between mid June and the end of Sept.

Who: we are looking for students in Grade 11 and 12 who would like to earn a $500 credit to their UPEI tuition in exchange for 100 hours of volunteer time over the summer. We are also looking for students and adults who are interested in participating as observers strictly as a volunteer activity, with no compensation attached.

What is expected: you will be shown how to fill in our data observation sheet and in discussion with you, assigned a location near you that you will conduct observations when you can. We would hope that would be between 2-4 hours a week, or more if you are aiming for the $500 tuition credit. The observations would be conducted from a stationary location within sight of where cyclists are likely to pass.

Why bother? This is a great opportunity to experience research in action and learn how to correctly wear a helmet yourself! Reference letters can be provided. The more people we get involved, the more data we will have and thus know if, when and where, we are making a difference!
