University Recognition of the International Baccalaureate Program

The information from the following sources provides valuable data for current and prospective IB students as they consider their post-secondary choices. As well, the data helps establish the benefits of the IB Program for parents and students considering enrollment, particularly with regard to the opportunities, scholarships and success of IB graduates.

Included here are:
- Canadian Universities Recognition Policies for IB Applicants, May 2011
- IB Global Destinations Survey for Canada, 2011
